Cástulo de la Rocha is President and CEO of AltaMed Health Services Corporation, a non-profit community health clinic that he directed from two employees to a JCAHO accredited Federally Qualified Health Center with over 950 employees to its current position as the leading provider of high quality, comprehensive health and human services in Los Angeles County.

AltaMed provides over 400,000 health and human services visits annually from its 22 sites in the greater L.A. area, including five primary care clinics. It offers a wide-range of programs serving special needs populations. For example, it has the largest HIV/AIDS program in East L.A. and is nationally acclaimed for its senior programs.

Cástulo has earned national recognition and many commendations, including the U.S. Surgeon General's Gold Medallion for Public Health in 1992; Community Service Award in 1995 from the American Diabetes Association; Significant Achievement Award in 1995 from the Chicanos for Creative Medicine; VNA Vantage Award in 1996 from the Visiting Nurses Foundation; Aztec Award in 2004 from the Mexican American Opportunities Foundation; CEO IT Achievement Award (Nominee) in 2004 from Modern Healthcare and HIMSS; Change The World with a Giving Heart Award in 2004 from the Association of Fundraising Professionals Greater L.A. Chapter; and named one of the Top 10 Latinos in the Health Care Industry from Latino Leaders Magazine in 2004.

Castulo earned his Juris Doctorate from Boalt Hall School of Law at UC Berkeley; his BA in Political Science from UC Santa Barbara; and a Certificate in Management from Stanford University. He has served on the Board of Governors of L.A.Care Health Plan, as a Corporate Board Member of Blue Shield of California, Regional Chair of the Surgeon General's Hispanic/Latino Health Initiative, and as a Member of the L.A. Orthopaedic Hospital Foundation Board of Trustees. He is also a Board Member of the Latino Issues Forum, AIDS ACTION Council, the I Have A Dream Foundation, the American Heart Association, the National Association of Community Health Centers, Inc., Executive Committee Member of the Latino Coalition for a Healthy California, Board Member of the Latino Theater Company, and a Member of the Monterey Park Hospital Board of Governors.
